17. (A)those refers to:

- ① consequences ② people
- ③ hours ④ bouts

18. The passage is mostly about ____

- ① walking and health.
- ② ideal work contracts.
- ③ medical discovery.
- ④ well-being at work.

“Having a great time now?” she inquired. “Much better.” I turned again to my new (★)acquaintance.

- (A) “I thought you knew. I’m afraid I’m not a very good host.”
- (B) “I’m Gatsby,” he said suddenly.
- (C) “This is an unusual party for me. I haven’t even seen the host. This man Gatsby sent over his chauffeur with an invitation.”
- (D) “What!” I exclaimed. “Oh, I beg your pardon.”
- (E) For a moment he looked at me as if he failed to understand.
- (F) He smiled understandingly—much more than understandingly.

In North Korea, possessing unauthorized foreign information and media is a crime. Punishments range from hard labor in a political prison camp (A)___ the death penalty. Yet ordinary North Koreans consume foreign media (B)___ a rapid pace. A 24-year-old defector from the North, who described herself (C)___ a foreign movie fanatic, said textbooks taught that South Koreans were naked and starving because they were so poor. But South Korean movies showed her the falsehoods of her teachers. Defector interviews and research about the North reveal a country undergoing social and political change. More North Koreans engage in illegal social activities and behavior, including mimicking Seoul-style ways of speaking and dressing to imitate South Korean celebrities. Political perceptions and attitudes toward the leadership also appear to be shifting. Dissatisfaction with the political system and distrust in the government seem on the rise.

21. What is the most likely conclusion of the passage?

- ① We should sponsor information campaigns to sustain pressure for change within North Korea.
- ② We should be careful to prevent North Koreans from receiving hard labor or the death penalty.
- ③ We should use our media to teach North Korean defectors unbiased political perceptions.
- ④ We should demand that North Korea stop viewing the possession of foreign information as a crime.

22. The best answer for (A), (B) and (C), respectively, is:

- ① for - to - with ② to - at - as
- ③ for - at - as ④ to - at - with

23. Which is NOT mentioned or implied in the passage?

- ① Mimicking Seoul-style ways of speaking is illegal in North Korea.
- ② More and more North Koreans are becoming skeptical about their government.
- ③ North Korea is undergoing a rapid change in political perceptions and attitudes toward its leadership.
- ④ North Koreans watch South Korean movies and learn that South Koreans are so poor.

The actual output was given as sixty-two million. Winston, however, in rewriting the forecast, marked the figure down to fifty-seven million, so as to allow for the usual claim that the quota had been overfilled. In any case, sixty-two million was no nearer the truth than fifty-seven million, or than a hundred and forty-five million. Very likely no boots had been produced at all. Likelier still, nobody knew how many had been produced, much less cared. All one knew was that, year after year, (A)astronomical numbers of boots were produced on paper, while perhaps half the population of Oceania went barefoot.  28. Why did the numbers of pairs of boots change so much? ① Mistakes ② Fantasies ③ Falsehoods ④ Production 29. Winston wanted to give the impression of ____ ① progress made. ② variety offered. ③ failed goals. ④ numbers cut. 30. We left, stunned by exhaustion and despair. We threw our last remaining energy into each retreat, not in the hope of saving our lives, but with the (A)feverish desire to participate in the next day's battle. We wanted to live so that we might again fire on the enemy, watch the bodies fall and blood pour out . . . to pay them back.
